Design Your Future

A Program for Undecided/
Undeclared Students

Undecided about a major and/or career or not yet accepted into a major?

At Holy Family University, we believe college is a time of academic and personal discovery for students who are undecided or undeclared about a major and/or career path. With the support of Professional Academic and Career Advisors, undeclared/undecided students design their future by exploring different academic pathways and careers. DYF is about helping students embrace their uniqueness, interests, desires, goals, and aspirations to decide on the best major and career path for a successful future.

DYF enables students to:

- Cultivate self-awareness, balance, and manage change.
- Think critically and creatively about one's future.
- Explore, with the guidance of a Professional Academic Advisor, personal values, interests, and learning skills, along with the best DYF courses to choose.
- Participate in activities, events, and courses to test out interests and abilities.
- Work directly with the Career Center utilizing self-assessment tools to help identify talents, skills, interests, and abilities related to potential careers, educational paths, and the world of work.
- Declare, on or before the end of Sophomore year, a major and career path designed for personal success.

DYF Students participate in:

- Scheduled meetings with an assigned Professional Academic Advisor and a Career Coach during the semester.
- Formal and Informal self-assessments to discover talents, skills and abilities.
- Career Office activities to consider career possibilities.
- Advisor/Advisee collaboration on Individualized semester plans, activities and schedules.
